DENIES THAT DELAY IS WANTED. Brief Filed by Gaynor's Counsel Before Supreme Court.

A brief was filed in the United States Supreme Court yesterday afternoon in the so-called Gaynor cases, upon the motion made by Solicitor General Richards to advance these cases. The solicitor general charged delay on the part of the defend-

In the brief filed by Abraham J. Rose it is denied that the defendants are seeking to delay trial, and it is asserted that the delay has been caused by the government in its efforts to "obtain an abduction through forms of law." Mr. Rose also says that it is unfair to put before the court statements as to the conviction of Carter, as such facts have no bearing on the case, and especially as the legality of that conviction is raised in a case already pending

"The defendants now are and always have been ready to be tried before any impartial, unprejudiced court on any valid legal indictment, but they have objected and will object to being sent for trial be-fore a court that they believe will not give them a fair trial, and be there tried on an alleged indictment found by a possibly packed, certainly picked, illegal grand fury."

Ir conclusion, ample time to prepare the appeal is asked, but objection is not made to advancing hearing of the appeal.

Satisfactory Test of Armor.

A six-inch plate from the Bethlehem works, representing group No. 1 of the armor for the new battle ship Ohio, was tested at the Indian Head proving ground yesterday under the auspices of the navy bureau of ordnance. Three shots were fired, two at velocities of 1,903 foot seconds and the other at a velocity of 1,893 foot seconds. The deepest penetration was 23 inches. The test was most satisfactory. As a result 400 tons of Kruppized armor will be accepted by the government.

Mrs. Clinton Smith was unanimously reelected president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the District of Columbia today at the morning session of its twenty-seventh annual convention, held in the Church of Our Father. The secretary, upon motion, was directed to cast the votes of the ninety-eight delegates present for Mrs. Smith. Several of the latter paid high compliment to her faithful devotion to duty and her kindly personality. votion to duty and her kindly personality. against her will.

When a treasurer was to be chosen Mrs. Smith announced that the ill-health of the incumbent, Mrs. H. A. Gillenwater, would prevent her serving again as such officer, and that nominations for this office were in order while the tellers were counting the

The ballot for treasurer showed that Mrs.

She said she could dispose of thousands of such books if she had them, and urged delegates to save pictures and interesting scraps and make such books. She also pleaded for a more general wearing of the white ribbon, the emblem of the W. C.

This Afternoon's Session.

The session this afternoon, with which the convention closes, was opened with prayer by Mrs. Florence L. Pierce. A symposium, participated in by the presidents of several of the unions and "Y's," followed. She said forty members of the 5th Cavalry had signed the pledge while at Fort Myer.

An appeal for the more careful distribu-tion and wider reading of temperance liter-ature was made by Mrs. Ruth M. G. Peal-er. The remainder of the program was devoted to reports of superintendents, as an-nounced in yesterday's Star.

NEW YORK'S ROPEWALK. An Old-Time Sight to Be Witnessed in a Vacant Lot Uptown.

In a vacant lot at 111th street and Amsterdam avenue may be seen a ropewalk, that is, a place where ropes are made by hand. It is the only one still in existence in New York city, though they were plentiful enough about twenty-five years ago before the machine-made ropes were so much used. It is an interesting sight to watch the rope-walker, with his body covered with hemp, spinning it into rope. This he does with the aid of a large wheel which a boy turns constantly, at the spinner's command of "Heave!" "Heave quicker!" The spinner walks backward, letting the hemp out gradually from around his body. At one end he attaches the hemp to a hook revolving at the turn of the wheel.

When sufficient threads are spun in this way a top or spool with the number of grooves necessary for all the threads to fit in is attached to them. The spinner grasps it firmly and shouting to the boy at the wheel to heave fast, which means to turn the wheel rapidly, he goes at almost a run to the opposite end of the walk, with the top in his hand. In this way the different threads are twisted into one. The rope is now completed ready to be packed and shipped, excepting in cases where the hemp is unusually rough, in which event a paste made of flour and water is used to smooth it.

Ropes made in this way are much stronger than those made by machine, but cannot be sold so cheaply, and moreover have the disadvantage of being made in limited lengths only, whereas the machine-made ropes can be made in almost unlimited lengths, the purchaser taking only as many feet as required. Machine-made ropes are sold at from one to three cents a yard, while those made by hand are sold at nearly double the amount, but they wear several times as long.
